Recommendation for Emanuel CARADAN

Emanuel (a.k.a. Manu) graduated from the Web Development course I teach and I can testify he's a passionate learner, very responsible and a solution driven person. He was particularly interested in front-end development. With a keen eye for the web page design, Manu solved the projects I gave to the class, trying to make the interface as user-friendly as possible.
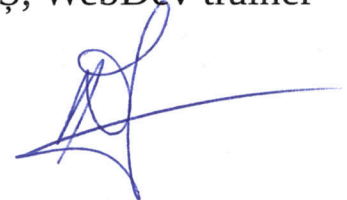

Also, he always tried to understand better and deeper the web development topics I presented to them. When facing a "jam", Manu was not afraid to ask for help in order to get the things done.

I would definitely recommend Manu as a web developer.

Sincerely,

Daniel FILIPAȘ, WebDev trainer
